Introduction

The aim of our BA (Hons) Social Work is to produce confident, competent, qualified social work practitioners. The programme therefore offers both academic and professional outcomes. Academic outcomes are available at Certificate of Higher Education in Social Care, Diploma of Higher Education in Social Care, and the BA (Hons) in Social Work levels.

The professional status of social worker is conferred by Social Work England and successful graduates are eligible to register with Social Work England as a qualified social worker. We offer a well-established programme with a national reputation for producing high calibre workers. Our programme is designed, managed, and delivered by a Programme Management Board that includes practice placement agencies, students, lecturers, and practitioners.

Stakeholder involvement ensures that our programme maintains a dynamic, outward-looking approach towards social work education with a clear focus on the needs of people with lived experience of social work. The following groups and organisations play an active part in the life of the programme:

- Employers: We are part of the Bradford Social Work Teaching Partnership with Bradford Council and Bradford College. The partnership works to provide good quality placements with the local authority. We also have a number of partnerships with third sector organisations.
- People who use services: User involvement is vital to the life of our programme and is an area we are committed to expanding. At the present time, people with lived experience of social work are employed as module teachers and guest speakers. They are also involved in local action-based research, and they co-run local and national conferences and provide advice on programme design.
- Students: We seek feedback from students on every aspect of the programme, including placement provision, module content and teaching, and programme management and design.
- Lecturers: The majority of lecturers teaching the programme are qualified social workers, with substantial practice experience. We work within a strong team ethos that ensures all lecturers are involved in the management and running of the programme.
- Practitioners: Social Work Practitioners are involved in the teaching and assessment of practice placements, and in teaching within the academic setting. They also monitor placement standards and interview programme applicants.

Curriculum

There are no optional or elective units on the course; all 360 credits are core and as there are no optional units on the course, the regulation on substitution of options will not apply.

Students must successfully complete SOW4001-B Introduction to Social Work, SOW4002-B Social Work Values and Ethics and SOW4020-Z Readiness for Direct Social Work Practice before they can take up their first placement.

Please note: The curriculum may change, subject to the University's programme approval, monitoring and review processes.

The first year of study (Stage 1) provides students with beginning knowledge and understanding of the context of social work practice and equips them with the required practice skills to undertake their first social work placement. There will be a requirement to develop and maintain a CPD (continuous personal and professional development) portfolio as part of this process. Academic work dovetails with this and provides: an understanding of historical perspectives and contemporary issues within social work; social policy underpinning social work practice; values and ethics; communication skills; sociological and psychological explanations of human development; skills in assessment, planning, intervention and evaluation. At the end of stage one, students will be assessed by a panel in terms of readiness for direct practice. This forms the end point of the Readiness to Direct Social Work Practice module (SOW4020-Z) that acts as a central hub to the curriculum. Within this module students will learn from experts by experience and social work practitioners. This module prepares students for their first professional practice placement.

Learning and Teaching Strategy

Our programme is built around high-quality practice placements, coupled with a clear system of curriculum development as students' progress through the stages of the programme. Our skills in teaching rest upon a commitment to clear learning outcomes, a structured system of progression, imaginative assessments and the provision of safe, stimulating learning environments. Our lecturers have a variety of specialist practice, academic and research skills as well as a commitment to providing high quality teaching and learning. Teaching on the programme is delivered through lectures, practical classes, workshops, tutorials, work-based learning and directed study (individual and small groups).

Assessment Strategy

All assessments test skills in critical analysis and reflective practice in the integration of the practice and theory of social work. Assessment for the modules Practice Learning I (Stage 2) and Practice Learning II (Stage 3) includes passing a placement at the required level and the provision of evidence for 'fitness to practice' at the next stage of the degree. Other forms of assessment include: essays; individual and group presentations and exercises; vivas, poster presentations, assessment report and care plans and case analyses.

If students fail the practice element of the course, then normally they will not be allowed another placement opportunity and will not be able to progress to complete the award of BA Social Work. If a student fails the practice learning assignments, which is the assessed academic component of the placement, they will have one further opportunity to resubmit the revised piece of work. In Year 1, students must pass and complete the Readiness for Direct Social Work Practice module and Readiness for Practice CPD portfolio before they can progress to Year 2. Both components of the Practice Learning I module must be passed in order to proceed to Practice learning II. Teaching on the Practice Learning modules must be undertaken in tandem with the placement element.

Study Abroad

This programme is not currently eligible for Study Abroad opportunities.

Assessment Regulations

This Programme conforms to the standard University Undergraduate Assessment Regulations which are available at the link: <https://www.bradford.ac.uk/regulations/>

However, there are five exceptions to these regulations as listed below:

1. To pass and proceed from each stage to the next, and also to be eligible for a classified Honours award, students must achieve, at each of the three stages, at least 40%/pass in all their modules.
2. If students do not achieve 40% at the first attempt, they will be permitted only one further attempt at supplementary assessment.
3. If students fail to achieve at least 40% pass in all elements of the professional practice modules they will not be given an automatic right to supplementary assessment. Supplementary assessment of these modules will only be permitted if this is agreed by the Board of Examiners.
4. Referral of Practice learning 1 will only be permitted in exceptional circumstances and where the practice component has been passed.
5. Students undertaking the BA (Hons) Social Work who may be considered for an Aegrotat award must only be eligible for the fall-back award of 'Social Care'.

Admission Requirements

A typical offer to someone seeking entry through the UCAS scheme would be 120 points with Grade 4 (national Grade C) or above in GCSE English and Maths.

We take into consideration a number of factors when assessing your application. It's not just about your grades; we take the time to understand your personal circumstances and make contextual decisions based on your potential to thrive at university and beyond. Applications are particularly welcomed from adult learners (those aged 21+ at the start of the programme), armed forces families, carers and care leavers, estranged or orphaned learners, refugees and asylum seekers, and Romani or Traveller families. To find out more about the University of Bradford Progression Scheme, visit the webpage: <https://www.bradford.ac.uk/applicants/progression-scheme/>

BA (Hons) Social Work applicants have to fulfil specific programme requirements regarding 'fitness to practice' as a professional social worker. To fulfil this requirement, students will need to demonstrate they have a minimum of 100 hours of relevant social care work experience, either paid or voluntary. This should have been undertaken within the last two years. Relevant social care experience includes direct work with people and could include:

- Direct work with people who need practical or emotional help or support either through face-to-face work or on an individual or group basis or telephone work.
- Mentoring or counselling.
- Care work (such as working as a health care assistant).
- Youth work.
- Working with children or young people who are socially excluded or have additional emotional and/or practical support needs.
- Placements through school or college which has been undertaken within the last 2 years at the point of application.
- Personal experience of caring for a relative or friend where you have had first-hand experience of social services or social work intervention; having a parent(s) who is a foster carer.
- Personal experience of using professional social work services.

We attach importance not only to the amount of experience that you have gained but crucially to the learning that you have gained and are able to apply this to your professional development. It is helpful if you include in your personal statement, your roles and responsibilities, and reflections on the ways in which your experience has helped to prepare you for social work as a career and demonstrate that you can be entrusted to work with the vulnerable.

We will take into consideration any factors which indicate students may be unsuitable to become a social worker, and examples of this include certain previous criminal convictions or episodes within your health record. All places are therefore offered subject to undertaking a Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS) check.

This programme welcomes international applicants. We also welcome experience in social work overseas, either because you lived there or because you have undertaken paid or voluntary work in another country. For information on what qualifications are equivalent to the above, visit the Entry Requirements page for your country by visiting:
